

What is the iSolveIt about?

iSolveIt (I Solve It) is a workshop that trains individuals, in problem solving techniques. Every organization at some point finds itself with a situation or obstacle to tackle, and this workshop will guide participants on how. The aim is to minimize time wasted in problem solving meetings due to lack of direction or inability to defragment an obstacle.

AFTER TRAINING PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Analyze obstacles and problematic situations properly
- Trace core issues at the root of obstacles
- Select an appropriate technique for a particular problem
- Effectively participate in meetings aimed at resolving issues
- Defragment most (if not all) problems and issues in a systematic manner

WHO IS iSolveIt FOR?

This workshop is beneficial for participants in wide range of fields and levels, be it in business, government or non-profit organizations, be them executives or employees, everyone needs the ability to solve problems in a systematic and orderly manner.

Why Bother with a workshop on problem solving?

Today's business environment is characterized by chaos and uncertainty, half of the problems for executives and employees is anticipating problems and finding a way to neutralizing them, or dealing with present issues. Valuable time may be spent going round and round in circles, when trying to find solutions. Learning problem solving techniques to apply to problematic issues will make resolving issues faster, more concise and less frustrating.

Duration

iSolveIt Workshops typically take two days, during the working week.
